1. STRUCTURE AND FUNCTIONS OF COUNCIL

Introduction

Hornsby Shire Council was first established in March 1906. The Council governing body of the Hornsby Shire consists of 10 Councillors - three elected from each of the three wards, plus a Mayor elected by all voters across the Shire.

The Shire, situated on the north-western outskirts of Sydney, has an area of 455 square kilometres, much of it comprised of virgin bushland surrounding residential development. To the west lie rural communities, some of which still provide a variety of agricultural produce. The Shire is richly endowed with National Parks and recreation areas, whilst along its northern and eastern borders is the beauty of the Hawkesbury River and Berowra and Cowan Creeks.

Principles for Local Government

The principles of Local Government are defined under Section 8 of the Local Government Act. To view follow the below link and go to Chapter 3 Section 8 – Principles for Local Government:

<https://legislation.nsw.gov.au/view/html/inforce/current/act-1993-030>

Organisational Structure

The role of the governing body is to direct and control the affairs of the Council in accordance with the Local Government Act and other applicable legislation. As elected persons, Councillors are required to represent the interests of the residents and ratepayers, provide leadership and guidance to the community, facilitate communication between the community and the Council and to formulate policies.

The Mayor carries out Council's civic and ceremonial functions, and presides at meetings of the Council. The Mayor may also exercise the policy-making functions of the governing body of the Council between its meetings where necessary, and carry out any other functions that the Council determines.

The General Manager is the Chief Executive Officer of the Council and is responsible for the operation of the Council's organisation and for implementing decisions of the Council and its policies. The General Manager is also responsible for the day-to-day management of the Council, exercising any functions delegated by the Council, and the overall management of staff.

To assist the General Manager in the exercise of these functions, there are four Divisions of Council. These Divisions are: Corporate Support; Community and Environment; Planning and Compliance; and Infrastructure and Major Projects. Council's Major Functions

Section 21 of the Local Government Act states that the Act classifies certain parts of a Council's functions as service - i.e., non-regulatory - (Chapter 6), regulatory (Chapter 7) or ancillary (Chapter 8). Ancillary functions are those functions that assist in the carrying out of a Council's service and regulatory functions.

Councils also have revenue functions (Chapter 15), administrative functions (Chapters 11, 12 and 13) and functions relating to the enforcement of the Local Government Act (Chapters 16 and 17).

To view these various functions in detail follow the link below to the Local Government Act and scroll down the left hand margin to find the relevant chapters:

<https://www.legislation.nsw.gov.au/#/view/act/1993/30> In addition, Council has functions conferred or imposed on it by, or under, many other Acts. Some other Acts and some of the functions they confer are listed under Chapter 5 Section 22 - 'Other functions' - of the Local Government Act.

The major functions that Council exercises according to the Local Government Act are summarised in the table on the following page.

2. THE IMPACT OF COUNCIL'S FUNCTIONS ON THE PUBLIC

As a service organisation, the majority of Council's activities have a significant impact on the public. Some of the activities shown in the preceding table, and their impact on the community, are briefly described below:

Service Functions

Council exercises these functions in providing facilities such as roads, parks, halls and swimming pools, as well as services such as libraries, garbage removal and bushland regeneration. In turn, these facilities can be used and enjoyed by the general public.

Regulatory Functions

These functions are for regulating various activities for the general well-being of the local community, for example planning controls.

Ancillary Functions

These functions assist Council in carrying out its other functions and include, for example the acquisition of land or the entry onto land by a Council officer.

Revenue Functions

The exercise of functions such as levying rates and setting fees and charges has a direct impact on many residents. The rates, fees and charges paid by the public are used by Council to provide services and facilities for its residents.

Administrative Functions

These functions relate to the internal operations of Council and set out the processes and mechanisms for Council's operation and accountability, through which the public are kept informed of the administration of their Council.

Enforcement Functions

These functions concern members of the public who are in breach of certain legislation, such as the non-payment of rates and parking fines, or non-compliance with an order or notice.

Community Planning and Development Functions

These functions affect areas such as cultural development, social planning, and community profile. They involve:

- Advocating and planning for the needs of our community

- Providing support to community organisations
- Facilitating opportunities for people to participate in the life of the community through a range of community events such as NAIDOC Week, Youth Week, Children's Week etc.

3. PUBLIC PARTICIPATION IN THE FORMULATION OF COUNCIL POLICIES AND/OR THE EXERCISE OF COUNCIL'S FUNCTIONS

There are a number of ways in which the public can participate in the formulation of Council's Policies and/or the exercise of Council's functions. These include:

Open Council Meetings

The meetings of Council are open to the public except when dealing with specified confidential matters. General Meetings are held on the second Wednesday of each month (except January) and deal with all relevant matters, including planning matters. In addition, Council may hold Workshop Meetings to consider specific matters or where a presentation from staff or external organisation is required. All Meetings are held in the Council Chambers - 296 Peats Ferry Road (formerly Pacific Highway), Hornsby, commencing at 6.30pm. Council Meetings and Local Planning Panel Meetings are also live streamed via <http://hornsby.webcastcloud.com/>

Public Forum

Members of the public are invited to attend the above meetings to present their submissions to Council and to respond to Councillors' questions to assist the decision-making process. During Council's Meetings, a period of time is devoted to allowing the public to address Council on agenda items and/or other matters.

Making Representations to Councillors

Councillors are the elected representatives of the residents and make decisions having regard to the views of their constituents. Members of the public are able to contact their appropriate ward Councillors directly to raise any concerns.

Mayoral Interviews

After speaking to the relevant ward Councillors and/or appropriate staff, members of the public may make an appointment with the Mayor and Council officers to discuss issues that require further attention.

Submissions to Council

The public can comment about matters being handled by Council, either personally or in writing. Every attempt is made by Council to satisfy any concerns raised. Information provided to Council in correspondence, submissions, or requests (verbal, electronic or written), may be made publicly available, in accordance with the Government Information (Public Access) (GIPA) Act.

Community Workshops

Community Workshops are held as required to gain public input and understanding in respect of major studies, Local Environment Plans and Development Control Plans. A special committee may be formed to guide Council in its deliberation of a matter.

The public have the opportunity to influence Council's decisions through certain Acts or Regulations by making submissions, comments or objections to proposals. For example, matters such as the levels of rates and charges, the contents of strategic plans and the granting of development and building approvals are advertised for comment before a final decision is made by Council.

Council Polls

The Local Government Act permits Council to take a poll of electors for its information and guidance on any matter. Council is also required to conduct a constitutional referendum before being able to proceed with certain matters.

Section 377 Committees

These are Committees to which Council has delegated a function of Council e.g., the care, control, and management of Council facilities such as halls or parks. In performing this role the Committees exercise some functions of Council. Opportunities for members of the public to participate in these Committees are advertised in the local papers and on Council's website as necessary. Currently Council does not have any 377 Committees.

4. TYPES OF INFORMATION HELD BY COUNCIL AND HOW TO ACCESS IT

Council holds a variety of information about the wide range of functions it undertakes and the issues it handles in relation to the Hornsby Local Government area. Information is held in various forms, e.g. electronic and hard copy files.

Much of this information is available for inspection free of charge, whilst some documents are available for purchase.

Hornsby Council has a commitment to openness and transparency, and to assisting easy access to information that it holds. To support this commitment, the Council has a proactive release strategy, ensuring that as much information as possible is available via its website (hornsby.nsw.gov.au) and Social Media. The information available on the website and social media channels is regularly reviewed and updated, having regard to current issues and topics of public interest.

Under the Government Information (Public Access) Act - GIPA Act - there is a right of access to information held by Council unless there is an overriding public interest against disclosure of the information. There are four main ways in which Council will provide access to information:

1. Mandatory Proactive Release – referred to as “open access” information
2. Authorised Proactive Release
3. Informal Release
4. Formal Access Applications

Any access to information applications will be processed in accordance with the GIPA Act and a determination will be made to either provide the information or refuse access on the basis of the relevant considerations under that Act.

Further details of the four main ways in which information will be made available is provided below.

4.1. Proactive Release Strategy

Council has established a Proactive Release Program to enhance information accessibility, which involves several key tasks undertaken throughout the reporting period. These include collecting data on frequently requested information, reviewing the disclosure log for topics of broader community interest, and identifying current issues or "hot topics" through regular team meetings. The program also involves liaising with the Strategy and Communications Team to gather insights on initiatives, developments, and public feedback across various communication platforms, and consulting the Governance and Customer Service Branch regarding issues discussed in formal Council meetings. Identified information is then made available on the Council's website, and the Open Access Information Checklist is reviewed and updated as required under the GIPA Regulation. Additionally, input from all relevant teams is sought during the preparation of the GIPA Annual Report to further enhance the proactive release program.

4.2. Mandatory Proactive Release / Open Access Information

Under the GIPA Act, certain information is prescribed as open access information and must be made publicly available unless there is an overriding public interest against doing so. Open access information is also required to be published on Council's website unless to do so would impose an unreasonable additional cost on Council.

Council has developed the below Checklist of its open access information which provides links to where the information can be found. Where any of the listed open access information is not made available on Council's website, it will be made available for viewing at Council's administration offices during normal business hours. Copies of the documents will also be available for a reasonable copying charge.

Open Access Information Checklist

Note 1*: Pursuant to Section 6(5) of the GIPA Act, an agency must keep a record of the open access information (if any) that it does not make publicly available on the basis of an overriding public interest against disclosure. In this regard, it should be noted that as from 1 May 2017, certain information associated with Development Applications, such as submissions and internal referrals, as well as information associated with Construction Certificate Applications, will not be made available on Council's web site during Council's deliberative process in respect of the DA. Once a decision about the DA or Construction Certificate has been made, the information may be available in accordance with the GIPA Act (subject to any public interest test considerations) by contacting Council's Access to Information section during usual business hours on 98476027 or by emailing gipa@hornsby.nsw.gov.au.
